

Case 3 (contract law – offer and acceptance)

Present the English case Harvey v Facey (Privy Council July 29th, 1893): explain the facts and the point of view of the Privy Council. What is the significance and the importance of this decision. How would a French or a Belgian judge solve the case? How would a German judge solve the case? Explain, in each of those four legal systems, if you find any differences regarding the rules of offer and acceptance when the sale concerns land compared to the normal rules of offer and acceptance?
